Product description

Experience fast, wireless charging with the Mcdodo CH-5500, a stylish and compact charger that delivers up to 15 watts of power. The product is characterised by its wide compatibility and durable, wear-resistant design, so it will serve you well for a long time.

Fast charging

With an output power of up to 15 watts, the charger allows you to charge your mobile phone in an amazingly short time. Forget the long wait - with the Mcdodo CH-5500 your equipment will be ready to go in no time.

Versatility and ease of use

The Mcdodo CH-5500 wireless charger is designed for versatility and ease of use. Thanks to its foldable stand, you can use it in two ways: flat or upright, as a stand for watching videos or for video calls. This functionality makes the device ideal for both office work and relaxing at home.

Stability and safety thanks to strong magnets

The Mcdodo CH-5500 is equipped with 16 strong N52 magnets that ensure the stability of your iPhone while charging. You don't have to worry about shifting or accidental interruptions - your mobile phone stays in place. In addition, the silicone plate on the surface of the charger protects it from scratches and slipping on your desk or table, making it more comfortable to use.

Compatible with a wide range of devices

The Mcdodo CH-5500 charger is compatible with most smartphones that support wireless charging. For devices other than the iPhone 12-15, the additional use of a magnetic case or ring (not included) is recommended. The charger is also ideal for charging AirPods.

Advanced protection technologies

The safety of your device is our top priority. The Mcdodo CH-5500 is equipped with advanced technologies that protect it from short circuits, overheating, overcharging and overvoltage. So you can charge your devices worry-free without fear of damage. In addition, the charger will not overheat, which increases its durability and safety.

Compact, durable design

The Mcdodo CH-5500 has compact dimensions (61 x 13.4 mm) and a low weight (62 g), which makes it ideal for anyone who values mobility. You can easily take it with you when travelling, to the office or to university. The 1m long USB-C cable also ensures convenient charging. High-quality PC and ABS materials also make the charger resistant to wear and damage. It is a device that you can rely on for many years, no matter how intensively you use it.
